Miss Ruth Moyle, of Hillcrest, acted as bridesmaid, while G. R. Henderson, of Hillcrest, supported the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Stobbs left for a honeymoon at Banff and other points west, and later will make their home at Hillcrest.

We were in error last week in stating that the Misses Penman, of Bellevue, had been appointed to the charge of the Burnis and Passburg schools. Instead, it is the Misses Penn, of Lundbreck, who have secured these positions.

When Mrs. Altermatt returned from Denver, she found her substitute piano players, Misses Benvenuto Pezzi and Violet Rae, doing so well on the job that she took two more weeks vacation and went away at the Altermatt ranch near Pincher Creek, but is now back on the job to stay.

SYNOPSIS

Marcus, the famous Broadway producer, visits Blackie Joe's New York night club, where he hears Al Stone, Blackie's singing waiter, render a love ballad of his own composition. Marcus offers to buy the song and Al consents on condition that the producer will hire Molly, his new heart, to sing the song in one of the Marcus revues. Marcus agrees, Molly treated Al disdainfully before that, because he was only a waiter, but now she makes up to him. Thus the night ends with two persons, Al and Molly, supremely happy. But there is sadness in the heart of Grace, the beautiful cigarette girl, for she is deeply in love with Al. She runs quickly home to hide her tears.

CHAPTER IX

Time heals the sharpest wounds, say the philosophers. Perhaps, but the memory of the wounds may last a long, long time. Fortunately the man or girl who has the strength to keep those memories from becoming bitter.

Grace Farrel, the cigarette girl at Blackie Joe's, was such a person. Al Stone and Molly Winton had left and become headlines on Broadway. As the weeks lengthened into months Grace heard reports of their achievements and saw their pictures in the papers. Al had become one of the outstanding song-writers of Tin-Pan-Alley, his melodious scores featured all the Marcus revues. His ballads and comic numbers had made him famous throughout America. Molly, true to Al's prediction, had become a headliner in the Marcus musical shows.

Once Grace begged time off from Blackie to see the outstanding Marcus show of the season. She had hoped Al would appear, but he didn't. However, Molly was there as one of the featured performers, singing Al's words and melodies. Grace, leaning forward in her first row gallery seat, had to admit Molly put the songs over well. Molly was deft, graceful, self-possessed, and she knew how to get the most from a song's variations.

"Perhaps I was wrong in thinking she couldn't make Al happy," mused Grace. "She certainly knows her business and she is awfully pretty."

Yes, Molly was pretty. Yet Grace's intuition told her, even from this distance, that there was something odd and calculating about her successful blonde rival. Her smile and gaily made Grace distrust her.

But Grace caught herself up on these critical thoughts—perhaps, she reasoned, they came from this distance. She determined to stifle them. They weren't fair to Molly.

Occasionally Al revisited Blackie Joe's and received congratulations from his old friends, but Molly never deigned to set foot in the place where she had started her climb up the ladder of fame. "That's Molly—too high-hat," murmured Blackie Joe to Grace in explanation.

Grace never forgot Al's first visit

often discussion. You and Molly are unusual that way."

Marcus gave a mysterious little smile and Al moved toward the door. "Molly's the one who's unusual—she's perfect," said Al, and disappeared through the door.

He wondered what Marcus meant by that mysterious smile, but dismissed it from his mind as he rode down in the elevator. Then he turned the corner, ran across the street, and entered another elevator to be whirled aloft to the Manhattan Roof. He found Molly in her dressing room, garbed for the street, chatting with John Perry.

John Perry was Al's best friend and a peculiar individual. The most peculiar thing about him was his mysterious source of income. He never seemed to work, yet he had plenty of money and spent it freely. Along the White Way they called him a racketeer and said he controlled the illicit distribution of contraband liquor in a district peppered with high class night clubs.

Physically he was decidedly prepossessing. Being tall and dark. When Molly and Al had first arrived on Broadway, John Perry had sung their praises and done them many little favors, Al, who liked everybody, had taken a decided fancy to John and had frequently backed over his songs with the debonair racketeer. Molly hadn't seemed to like John so much at first, but lately his charm of manner had won her over, and her attitude had been quite friendly.

Perry jumped up the moment Al entered and proffered his hand.

"Well, Al, old top, I've been visiting Molly. Hope you don't object."

"Not at all," Al dismissed the suggestion with a laugh and a wave of the hand. "I like Molly to meet other men. And you know, John, I regard you as one of my best friends."

John Perry raised his glance toward the ceiling, shrugged his shoulders, but did not answer.

"Shall we go, Al?" said Molly quickly and rather nervously. "I've been waiting for you some time."

"Sure, right away, I was detained talking to Marcus about the new show."

"I have arranged for you to have the pick of the songs. Where shall we go—to a club or home?"

"Let's go home, Al, I'm tired."

As they left the dressing room Al went first down the narrow corridor.

He did not see Perry give Molly's hand a surreptitious squeeze as she followed.

Weights Canadian Outlook

Bank of Montreal Says Other Means Will Offset Small Wheat Crop

Canadian prosperity will not be affected by the failure of the wheat crop this year because of numerous favorable features in the commercial field at large, according to a business summary issued by the Bank of Montreal. The report estimates the wheat crop at 900,000 bushels, with a possibility that it may not reach this figure, which will be the smallest crop of wheat in Canada since 1924, when the yield amounted to 52,097,000 bushels. The report says:

"In the five years elapsed since the partial crop failure of 1924, a large development of Canadian resources, industry and trade has occurred, buttressing business against a slight untoward factor. In that period immense strides have been made in harnessing water powers, in new-product production, in motor-car industries, in the fabrication of iron and steel, in output of minerals, in all departments of domestic trade, aggregate wealth of the nation is greater than ever before. Misadventure, formerly a slack season in business, now brings a large influx of tourists, whose expenditures stimulate many branches, and this year the invasion is making a new high record. Viewing the commercial field at large, it can, indeed, be said that favorable features outnumber the unfavorable, and that the volume of commodity production and distribution is at the highest level."

Forty Bird Sanctuaries

Forty bird sanctuaries have been reserved in Canada by the Department of the Interior under the Migratory Birds Convention Act, which is the Federal law for the protection of migratory birds. There are also fifty-one public shooting grounds reserved by the Dominion Government in Western Canada. Shooting is allowed on these latter areas in the open season.

Canada To Establish Prison For Juveniles

Money Voted For Institution Says General Hughes

Establishment of a penal institution for young people not hardened in the ways of crime will be brought about within two years, in the opinion of Gen. St. Pierre Hughes, inspector of Canadian penal institutions.

Although the matter has been dormant since it was first brought up in 1895, the Dominion Government has now appropriated money for the establishment of the juveniles, reformatory or penitentiary, and the institution will be established somewhere near Kingston, Gen. Hughes believes. Young people who must be punished will, through this new institution, be segregated from older and more hardened criminals, instead of being thrown amongst them as is done under present conditions.

SUMMER COMPLAINTS KILL LITTLE ONES

At the first sign of illness during the hot weather give the little ones Baby's Own Tablets. In a few hours they may be beyond aid. These Tablets will prevent summer complaints if given occasionally to the well child, and will promptly relieve these troubles if they come on suddenly. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in every home where there are young children. There is no other medicine so good, and the mother has the guarantee that they are absolutely safe. They are sold by all druggists or will be mailed on receipt of price, 25 cents per box, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Seeking Northern Paradise

Adventurers From Washington State To Investigate Eskimo's Story

The existence of a far north paradise is hinted by Eskimos who told William Leyman, of Kotzebue, of a warmer continent with big rivers and fertile valleys beyond Bering Straits, according to officers of the steamship "Derby," arriving at Tacoma, Wash., from the Alaskan port on her first round trip this season.

As a result of Indian and Eskimo lore prevalent in Kotzebue, Leyman and several adventurers plan to leave by airplane to investigate rumors.

The white men this summer watched wild geese fly far north beyond the Alaskan coast. This incident alone is a contention that warm springs or open water of some kind exists toward the North Pole.

Müller's Worm Powders were devised to promptly relieve children who suffer from the ravages of worms. It is a simple preparation to destroy stomachic and intestinal worms without shock or injury to the most sensitive system. They act thoroughly and painlessly, and though in some cases they may cause vomiting, that is an indication of their powerful action and not of any nauseating property.

Feeling Run Down?

Over 400,000 women and girls who were weak, "blue," nervous, run down, and unable to do their work properly, have improved their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. By accurate record, 98 out of every 100 women who take it can be almost certain that it will help you too.

Just Made Him Laugh

Plucky Navigator Not Daunted By Nerve-Racking Experience

A young fellow sailed from Boston for France in a 116-foot open boat equipped with an outboard motor. His chief asset, says the Associated Press dispatch, appeared to be pluck. Pluck, we should say. What nerve such an undertaking requires! Yet there are plenty of men who have it. We recall in particular Capt. Howard Blackburn, of Gloucester, who once tried the Atlantic crossing alone in an 18-foot sail boat. Off the Grand Banks a storm came up. The exhausted navigator finally threw out a drag to keep the boat's head in the wind and crept into his cabin for a nap. A wave came aboard that threatened to sink the vessel, and he jammed the sliding door to the cabin so that for a time Blackburn couldn't open it to let himself out.

"How did you feel?" he was asked. "Well," he replied, "it seemed so ridiculous that I should die that way that I just laughed out loud."

Little Helps For This Week

"And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought."—Isaiah lvi. 11.

My Shepherd is the Lord my God. There is no want I know; His rocks He leads in verdant meads Where tranquil waters flow.

He doth restore my fainting soul With His divine cares. And when I stray He points the way To paths of righteousness.

—Eugene Field.

Through every step in life, the Shepherd offers to guide us, if we will but hear His voice and follow Him. He never promises smooth paths, but He does promise safety. If we follow Him we may find the steepest climb "a path of pleasantness, and the lowest valley of humiliation" as a highway to peace.

—Theodore L. Cuyler.

Use Natural Hot Water

Citizens Of Boise, Idaho, Supplied With Hot Wells

Heating problems have been solved for 200 home owners of Boise, Idaho, who have natural hot water piped into their faucets. It is stated by E. E. Smith, vice-president and general manager of the Boise Water Corporation, in an article in the July issue of the Professional Engineer, monthly organ of the American Association of Engineers. The water comes from the Hot Wells, several miles east of town.

An acre of quagmire was noticed to be warm and never covered by snow in winter. Several men decided to prospect for water and after digging 400 feet found a good flowing supply of hot water. They dug another well, and the two produce 800,000 gallons a day. The water's temperature is around 170 degrees.

Canadian Sea Fish Catch

The Canadian catch of sea fish in the first half of 1929 had a landed value of $9,964,822, which was an increase of $500,000 over the similar period of last year, despite a reduction of 9,000,000 pounds in the weight of the fish caught which amounted to 280,290,000 pounds.

What most people call indigestion is actually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acid. But don't use crude herbs. Use what your doctor would advise. The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. It is gentle, so harmless, so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggist.

SPEED

Speed! Speed! says an exchange. A world gone mad with speed. Speed in business. Two sales made where one was the rule of yesterday. Two dollars in the bank where one reposed last year. Two customers served in the time devoted to one in other days. And to what end?

No time for reading, and personality sinks to cash-register level. No time for contemplation, and finer qualities die. No time for helpfulness, and morality withers. No time for courtesy, and friends fall away. No time for companionship, and family finds other interests.

Speed in pleasure! One-tenth second per mile clipped from the racing record and thousands cheer. One hour less for the transcontinental run and the telegraph carries the momentous news to the world. One day gained in an around-the-world fight and the nations applaud.

Three hundred and fifty miles covered in a Sunday motor ride, and not one lasting memory of shadowed mountain or sunlit valley. Two thousand miles traversed while a no-recollections vacation speeds, and no recollections save reeling roadway and blurred landscapes. Fourteen precious days expended and no store of health left up for future need.

The pace that kills! The train at the crossing cleared by a split second—perhaps. What will you do with that split second? Where is your sense of proportion? Would you wager a million dollars against a cent? Yet you bet eternity against seconds. More—you lay the odds of your eternity and that of each member of your family against seconds, and then use the time to speed to the next crossing.

Call a halt. Take stock. Soothe your jangled nerves with reflection. Take time to live. Regain your appreciation of relative values. Moderate your pace and enjoy life as you go. Get acquainted with books, with friends, with family, with the worthwhile things in life. Store your mind leisurely with memories—they will last you always and always be a source of pleasure. Slow down—dangerous curves ahead—The Forester.

SYDNEY PAPER FINED ON CONTEMPT CHARGE

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 20.—A fine of $1250 was imposed on the newspaper Labor Daily, and a fine of $350 upon its editor, today, on the ground there had been real and substantial interference in the course of justice by the newspaper in publishing articles headed such as "L.W.W. Frame-Up, the Great Conspiracy Against Labor."

The Labor Daily was cited, along with the Sydney Morning Herald, for alleged contempt of court, arising from articles published on the arrest of Jack Garden, alleged communist, and six others in connection with the dispute in the timber mills.

In the case of the Herald, decision will be made later.

THE SCENE AT FRANK

Scoundrelously the minds of all who have travelled through Crow's Nest, over the scene of the great Frank slide, have been saddened and distressed at the advertisements painted on the large boulders along the wayside. These boulders, are after all, the tombstones of the many victims of the disaster, lying underneath the highway.

It has remained for a Lethbridge Herald correspondent, openly to remonstrate against this desecration of the scene of one of the most terrible tragedies in Alberta's history. He says that prejudices against ordinary billboards and abandoned autos which clutter the highways, pale before this real disfigurement of art are inspiring and impressive road. How much better instead of advertisements, if there were inscribed some such words as these: "This is nature's memorial to those whom she buried."

As a matter of fact, all those who know the history of the spot, are so revolted at the sight of the huge admonitions to wear somebody's overalls, because they do not give, that for once advertising fails, and they leave the scene with only the vague memory that one should wear overalls, and forgetting entirely the man who has had the execrable taste to advertise his special brand on tombstones.—High River Times.

KIMBERLEY SOUNDLY DEFEATED BY PASS TEAM

What was to have been the titbit of the season in baseball proved one of the worst for Kimberley, when they played the Pass team at Michel on Sunday evening last, the Pass winning by a 23 to 9 score.

Kimberley, up first, gave the fans a set-back, scoring three runs in quick succession. The Pass got none in the first frame, but came back in the second to score two runs.

Kimberley had shot their bolt and a goose egg was all the Pass boys would allow them. In the third frame McKeeley went up in the air, the Pass scoring five runs. The pitcher was pulled out of the box, Jahren taking his place, pulled his team out of a bad hole. Sofko, pitching for the Pass, was keeping Kimberley well back from scoring.

In the fourth the Pass got one more run, in the fifth three and in the sixth the big Swede let them go for five more.

Kimberley changed the pitcher, Cameron taking Jahren's place in the box. Cameron didn't help matters and had it not been for his outfield, who were playing real baseball, the score would have gone up more.

In the seventh Sofko let the Kimberley gang away for four runs. This put new life into the game. The Pass came back in their turn at bat to score seven runs.

Three home runs were made, Noble, Zeith and Sofko sending the pill to the far fence. Kimberley sure looked a sad outfit.

In the last inning two more runs were made by Kimberley, this ended the game with the score standing: Kimberley — 200 000 420—9

The Pass — 025 135 70x—23

The line ups: Kimberley—Argue, cf; Berto, 2b;

It is said that the introduction of the motor car also introduced more than four hundred new words into the English language—not to mention the extra burden it placed upon a number of already overworked cuss words. But isn't it singular that we haven't introduced a substitute for "ain't," or else given it the respectable mantle of formal adoption.—Ex.

POEME

I want the lights that brightly shine,
I want the man, I want the wine,
I want the fun without the price,
I want to be naughty and still be nice.
I want the thrill of a long dream kiss,
I want the things that nice girls miss,
I want the arms and heart of a man,
I want to stay single if I can.

So as a lawyer, please give me advice
On how to be naughty and still be nice.

I want to do what other girls do,
Tease and cuddle and bill and coo,
Blacken my eyes and powder my nose,
Smoke cigarettes and wear fancy clothes.

Rouge my cheeks and pencil my lips,
Carry a silver flask on my hip,
Tango a little and shimmy a lot,
Park my corset when the weather is hot.

Ride and swim and golf and skate,
Take the fences instead of the gate,
Break all records—yes, all but one,
And be good and true when the game is done.

I don't like pepper, but I do like spice,
I want to be naughty and still be nice.

The advice I give you is sound and true,
You can't eat your pie and keep it too.

If you want the man and want the wine,
Someone must pay when you eat and dine.

If the first one yields a moment's bliss,
Why the next must be a longer kiss.

If you want the arms of a man and his heart,
It is his to give only that certain part.

If you want the things that nice girls pass,
You've got to be wiser than most, my lass.

It's the problem old—to be naughty and nice,
So watch your steps is my best advice.

Go to it kid, with your powder and paint,
To make you appear just what you ain't.

Shimmy and drink to your heart's content,
And be hugged and squeezed till your ribs are bent.

Park your corset on a hickory limb,
But never, my daughter, go in to swim.

The game you play is a man's long suit,
Since Eve first nibbled the forbidden fruit.

Whatever you get you must pay the price.
You can't be naughty and still be nice.

SOME STRANGE EPITAPHS

Somehow there is a fascination to some persons in prowling around old cemeteries. Only the other day this writer met a lady who recalled something that appeared here long ago concerning a little hidden old cemetery near Erie, Mich. It impressed her.

There is something that intrigues one about looking at ancient grave-stones—in reading the stories that are written there. Some of the epitaphs are queer—odd. But each of them usually tells a human story. A long time ago there was a book about epitaphs published. And if you don't think epitaphs have a story all their own, follow on:

In Herndon churchyard, in England, there is an epitaph that reads this way:

"Beneath this stone Tom Crossfield lies,
Who cares not now who laughs or cries;

He laughed when sober, and, when mello,
He was a harum-scarum, harmless fellow."

Died at St. John's, Stamford, Lincolnshire, England, one William Pepper. Those responsible for his epitaph, put it thus:

"Hot by name, but mild by nature,
He brewed good ale for every creature;

He brewed good ale—and sold it, too,
And unto each man he gave his due."

Truth, they say, is stranger than fiction. Possibly that is why an Englishman saw that this was graven on the tombstone of his wife:

"Here lies my dear wife, a sad slattern and a shrew;
If I said I regretted her, I should lie,

too."

Another fellow must have been the village cut-up. For this is what passers-by saw on the stone for his wife:

"Here lies Joan Kitchen, who when her glass was spent, Kicked up her heels—and away she went."

In All Saints' churchyard in Newcastle there is a stone at which many pause. For this is writ:

"Here lies Robert Walters,
Clerk of All Hollows,
King of good fellows,
Maker of bellows.

Bellows did he make till the day of his death,
But he that made bellows could never make breath."

And in Doncaster churchyard, also in England, this rather illiterate information, just the same, tells its story:

"Here lies 2 brothers by misfortune scrounted,
One dyed of his wound—the other was drowned."

Out in Burlington, Ia., there is a little grave, whose stone tells:

"Beneath this stone our baby lays,
He neither cries nor hollers;
He lived just one and 20 days,
And cost us forty dollars."

And Lasted Longer
An old gentleman was attending a football game with a young enthusiast.

"You'll get more excitement and see more rough stuff than you ever got for $2.00 before," enthused his young companion.

"I doubt it," replied the old gentleman, as fond memories flashed thru his mind. "That's all my marriage license cost."—Capper's Weekly.

When Co-operation Should Prevail

The 1920 crop season in Western Canada would seem to present a rare opportunity for a further development of that spirit of co-operation which has been such a notable and satisfactory feature of Western economic history during the last twenty-five years. Not only is there now opportunity for such further development, but the existing situation undoubtedly calls for the practice to the fullest extent of the principle of co-operation to which tens of thousands of our Western people have devoted their allegiance.

While it may yet be early to predict just what the outcome of this year's harvest operations in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will disclose, it is now well known that in quantity of grain production there will be an enormous surplus compared with 1919. The quality may be higher, and prices substantially better, and in the final result the amount of money paid to Western grain growers may not fall so greatly below last year's figures, as many have feared and as seemed altogether probable.

But the fact remains that the distribution of crop money will not be nearly so general as in the last few years. Some sections of the West, and the farmers resident therein, will receive more money for their labor than they did a year ago. But, on the other hand, other sections will receive very considerably less, and quite a number of farmers who were forced to plough down their drought-stricken fields will receive nothing at all.

Another serious feature of this year's operations is that, whereas in other years of shortage in grain crops, the man engaged in mixed farming had his cattle and dairy products to fall back upon, this year he finds himself in an even more serious predicament than the all-grain farmer, because in the sections most seriously affected, the drought has been so prolonged, and the weather so hot, that the supply of feed is dangerously short.

As a result of the heavy decrease in volume of grain production it has been decided not to run the usual harvesters' excursions from Eastern Canada, not to mention from Great Britain, in the belief that the West itself can supply all the harvest hands required. The introduction of the Combines has operated to reduce the number of harvesters required, while the growing industrialism of the West provides a large number of men who can be drafted to the harvest fields in the fall months. Again, this year, from those sections of partial crop failure, farmers and their sons can be drafted to those sections where help is needed. Also, because of the drop in volume of grain to be moved, the railways will not require as many men as in former years.

Here is where the opportunity for real co-operation presents itself. Farmers requiring harvest help should give first preference to other farmers and their sons who have suffered crop loss. Farmers requiring help, and farmers anxious to secure work, should both lose no time in making their wants known to the nearest Government Employment Office, which will be the agency to bring the two together and thus render valuable services to both.

In like manner farmers having a surplus of feed, and those others who are in dire need of feed, should both make their situation known to their Provincial Departments of Agriculture. It will be to their mutual advantage.

In the third place, many farmers will not even get their seed back this year, and will require to purchase next spring's requirements; on the other hand, many farmers will have an excellent surplus of seed for sale. Here, too, both should make report to their Department of Agriculture. Seed grain can, by such an arrangement, be moved from one district to another at a minimum of expense.

In every community the spirit of true co-operation should prevail. The man who is fortunate this year should find real satisfaction in extending a helping hand to his less fortunate fellow-farmer. No one can tell, but the situation may be exactly reversed in another year. This kind of co-operation may not be quite so spectacular as the big Wheat Pools, but it is equally important, and it is the spirit which will make the Pools strong and permanent and a greater success than has yet been attained. It is the spirit of the West. Cultivate it, encourage it, develop it all along the line.

Natives Of Rennell Island Accept Fish Hooks For Day's Work

An island on which an able-bodied young man is satisfied with five fish hooks for a day's work and a large axe for a fortnight's work, is described in a Colonial Report just issued. This spot is Rennell Island, one of the least known of the Pacific Islands, which was recently the subject of a geological survey. The inhabitants of the island are estimated to number at least 700 and are still untouched by white influence. They are described as "objectively poor" and "practically vegetarians."

Wainwright Oil Wells

There are sixteen wells in the Wainwright and Rhinoceros oil fields at present, of which six are producing to some extent. The wells vary in depth from 200 to 3,489 feet. Preparations are in process for drilling 23 other wells in these districts.

The Province of Saskatchewan, which produces about one-half of the total wheat of Canada, is also the third producer of dairy products and of eggs and poultry among Canada's nine provinces.

Wireless For Heating

Paris May Try System Used With Success In Germany

Wireless waves sent from the Eiffel Tower may eventually heat the entire city of Paris, according to French electrical engineers who are studying the system being used in Germany. According to M. Jacques Rialler, who has just returned from Germany, heating plants there are being operated by wireless waves, and although the wireless heating of houses is still in the experimental stage, the feasibility of it has been definitely established. In the tests two posts were set up in the laboratory about 30 feet apart. The sending post sent out from 400 to 500-volt current waves of a length of from two to three metres. Heat is produced by merely imposing on the receiving post circuit a filament in a vacuum, which is raised to an incandescent state. Rialler says the receiving posts can easily be installed in homes to become electrical radiators.

Exhibition For South America

Canada To Participate In British Empire Trade Exhibition At Buenos Aires In 1921

Canada's official participation in the six weeks British Empire trade exhibition, to be held at Buenos Aires, Argentina, in the spring of 1921 was announced by the department of trade and commerce recently.

Canada has been allotted a separate pavilion with a floor space of nearly 40,000 square feet. This pavilion is to be remodelled by the Canadian exhibition commission and a new facade will be erected, the sculpture thereon to be suitably emblematic of Canada. This pavilion is in one of the choicest locations of the park and will be a striking monument of Canada's trade aggressiveness in South America. Copies of the prospectus of the exhibition have already been distributed by the Department of Trade and Commerce to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in Canada.

RHEUMATIC PAINS

Cannot Be Rubbed Out — The Trouble Must Be Treated Through the Blood

The pain of rheumatism is something that you cannot rub out. Every sufferer from rheumatism has been advised to rub this or that liniment or oil on the affected part, but after all the rubbing the pain remained. This blood and rheumatism come together and if they are properly treated will go together. Rheumatism means that the blood, and this blood is something that can be corrected, so why not build up the blood until the rheumatic poisons are driven out? This is exactly what is done in the treatment of rheumatism with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Rheumatism in any form shows improvement as the thin blood is built up, and when the poisons in the blood are overcome and driven out rheumatism disappears and does not return so long as the blood is kept rich and red. The great value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the treatment of rheumatism is proved by the case of Mr. Thomas Martin, of Nova Scotia, who says: "For some years I was so badly troubled with rheumatism that I could hardly walk and suffered great pain. I had medical treatment but it did me no good. I then decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking the pills for some time the trouble disappeared and has not since shown the least sign of returning."

"You can get these pills from your druggist, or by mail for 50 cents a box from 'The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Should Be Useful

If beef production is to remain a major branch of agriculture in Canada, it must be stimulated and the artificial obstacles to its progress removed. The new Canadian Council of Beef Producers provides a medium through which much self work may be done, and with 1,000,000 head to market each year, producers should be glad that some organization is prepared to fight their battles.—Farmers Advocate.

Relief From Asthma. Who can describe the complete relief from suffering which follows the use of Dr. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy? Who can express the feeling of joy that comes when its soft and gentle influence relieves the tightness, choking air tubes? It has made asthma a thing of the past for thousands. It never fails. Good druggists everywhere have sold it for years.

The Agent—I forgot to mention that in this country house is being built there are two very old stained glass windows.

Mr. Newgilt—That won't matter. If they're stained too bad to be cleaned I can put in new ones.

In Berlin a noisy machine is confiscated by the police and fitted with a silencer at the owner's expense.

A Severe Attack of Dysentery Checked by 4 Doses

Mr. I. Burtonwood, 620-22nd St. W., Saskatoon, Sask., writes:—"My child, who is now three years old, had a very severe attack of dysentery, and after three days' treatment with other things we decided to use Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry."

On this day his bowels had moved twice, but in ten minutes to eleven hours, but four doses checked it. "A short time to a neighbor whose child was troubled, and it too was relieved within thirty hours."

"We both always keep a bottle of Dr. Fowler's handy at all times. This medicine has been on the market for over 80 years; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont."

Aviation No Longer Thrilling Adventure

Safety Measures Have Made It Reliable Says Veteran Pilot

If you want to know how reliable and dependable modern commercial aviation really is study first the great accidents—infinitely fewer than the roads—have occurred in the great air service between London, Paris and Berlin, and other European capitals. Study the unfailing punctuality with which aircraft fly between England, Asia Minor, Egypt, and India. Consider the fact that the England-Australia flight has already been accomplished, the Atlantic already down; remember that these feats will shortly develop into regular passenger services. And then read the complaint of E. Hamilton, dean of the States air mail pilots. He now flies a plane on the Chicago-Omaha division, but he says that flying is not what it was because "they've made it too safe." In an interview with newspapermen in his country he said, "We air veterans have had our day. I'm happy to celebrate my millenth mile, but I feel the safety measures have taken most of the adventure out of the air mail business."

Of course, one must sympathize with this adventurous soul; but his complaint is perfect evidence that air transportation has become qualified for the complete trust of the travelling public.—Calgary Albertan.

Its Quality Sells It.—The fact that so many thousands of intelligent people continue to use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil speaks volumes for its healing efficiency. Ever since it was first introduced it has grown steadily in public favor, owing entirely to its manifold usefulness in relieving and healing sickness. As a specific for cuts, burns, scalds, and various inflammatory pains its record is beyond reproach.

New Policy For Fur Traders

Will Establish Experimental Fur Farm At Northern Posts

Northern Traders Limited, operating many fur posts in the Mackenzie River District, has announced a new policy in connection with an expansion programme—at each of the posts the company has made arrangements for the establishment of an experimental fur farm. These will be conducted along scientific lines with the animals being raised in their natural habitat. Foxes of all sorts, mink, fisher, marten, and badger will be among the first to receive attention.

Co-Operative Poultry Marketing

Manitoba Association Now Has a Membership Of Over 15,000

When the Manitoba Co-Operative Marketing Association, Limited, began operation in 1922, the first year's shipments totalled five cars of dressed poultry, 10 cars of live poultry, and 153 cars of eggs to markets in Eastern Canada and the United States. The organization now has a membership of over 12,000 farmers and their wives throughout the Province of Manitoba.

Art Is Universal

Sir Harry Lauder Favorite With People Of All Nations

Sir Harry Lauder, associated with what is declared to be the greatest company of international artists ever offered in conjunction with the famous staging comedians, comes to the Grand Theatre, Regina, Sept. 5 and 6, with matinee on Sept. 6th. Sir Harry's art is so universal that in the Far East as well as in other sections of the world comprehended in his travels, he attracts thousands of auditors who do not understand the English language, to say nothing of the b-r-r-ing Scottish dialect, and yet seem to enjoy the diversified Lauder programme to the limit. In Western United States and Canada, Indians often form a considerable element in his audiences.

As Lauder is unlike any other entertainer, it is impossible to compare him with any of the other famous amusement stars. His songs are his own, and his method of presenting them is peculiarly Lauderque. This season Lauder comes with a repertoire of new songs, which he will offer in addition to the best and most popular of his old favorites, with special scenic settings to fit each characterization. Some of the newer songs to be given have been popular hits. They include "I'm Looking For a Lass Too Love Me," "Th' Boss O' the House," "Buddy Maclean," and others equally characteristic.

A Valuable Gift

University Of California To Receive Copy Of World Famous Bible

About 1,000 years before printing was invented a Bible was handwritten in letters of gold and silver on purple parchment by unknown artists in the Po Valley of northern Italy. It was placed in an elaborately wrought silver cover, and has been preserved at the University of Upsala, Sweden.

This is the world-famous Godes Argenteus of Bishop Wulfila, and copy of the very limited facsimile edition of this 1,400-year-old book is to be given to the University of California by the University of Upsala.

The book was translated by Bishop Wulfila, or Ulfilas, as the Greeks called him, in the fourth century. The manuscript was lost track of for 1,000 years or more, and then came to light in a German monastery.

Fraser River Salmon

Salmon Pack Is Showing Better Promise Than Any Year Since 1917

This year the Fraser River is showing splendid promise of coming back as a highly valuable sockeye stream, the pack showing more promise to date this year than any year since 1917, according to the Financial News of Western Canada, which goes on to say, "Steadily the stream has been replenished after the disastrous blocking of Hell's Gate about 15 years ago. Not only are the fish running in quantities larger than for 12 years but they are running earlier."

All mothers can put away anxiety regarding their suffering children when they have Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator to give relief. Its effects are sure and lasting.

E. B. RAMSAY IS HEAD OF NEW GRAIN BOARD

Ottawa.—The Canadian Board of Grain Commissioners will be: E. B. Ramsay, chairman, Prof. Duncan A. MacGibbon, Hon. C. M. Hamilton.

This announcement was made here by Hon. James Macdonald, Minister of Trade and Commerce. Recently the three who composed the board, Leslie H. Boyd, K.C., James Robinson and Matthew Snow, resigned after many years' service.

The announcement of their successors has been awaited with a great deal of interest, particularly by those in any way connected with the grain trade.

Ramsay is general manager of the Canadian Wheat Pool with headquarters at Winnipeg, and a former banker. "He is highly regarded in the west for his financial and selling ability," says a statement making public his appointment. The statement adds:

"Professor Duncan A. MacGibbon, professor of political economy of the University of Alberta, is an outstanding economist in western Canada, who drafted the economic factors of the Turgeon report and a comprehensive understanding of western conditions."

"Hon. Charles Magill Hamilton, Minister of Agriculture for the Province of Saskatchewan, is a practical agriculturist. All three are outstanding business men, familiar with the grain trade and representative of the three prairie provinces, one from Manitoba, one from Saskatchewan, and one from Alberta."

Naval Disarmament

It is predicted that Premier MacDonald will go to the United States in October, after a visit to Geneva, for the meeting of the assembly of the League of Nations.

It is presumed that further arrangements will be reached when Premier MacDonald meets Ambassador Daves at Elgin-on-Auger at a time when they probably will be present at a luncheon given by that municipality.

Wants Alberta Coal

But Price Prohibitive

Manager Of Winnipeg Hydro Finds Price Too High.

Winnipeg, Man.—That the price asked for Alberta coal by dealers was forcing him to bring in to Winnipeg, American coal for the city steam heating plant, was the statement made by J. G. Glasco, manager of the Winnipeg Hydro. He declared it appeared likely that the entire coal supply would have to be brought from across the border.

"Canadian dealers are submitting tenders for Alberta coal at $7.00 a ton, as compared with $7.20 quoted for the American product," Mr. Glasco said, adding: "the tragedy is that the coal we want is in Alberta."

Pacific Ports Lead In Grain Exports

Taking Trade From U.S. Atlantic Ports, Not Montreal

Vancouver, B.C.—Vancouver and allied Pacific coast ports lead Canada in export of Canadian wheat, according to totals furnished by the Vancouver Merchants' Exchange and computed from official figures compiled by the board of grain commissioners.

Vancouver, New Westminster, Prince Rupert and Victoria shipped a total of 97,000,000 bushels in the 1928-29 season or 26 per cent. of the total Canadian export, while Montreal, Quebec, Halifax and other Atlantic ports combined exports accounted for 92,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat.

From these figures it is deduced that Vancouver is not cutting in on the trade of Montreal, but is shipping at the expense of United States Atlantic ports, which shipped 67 per cent. of the total in 1927-28 and have since declined to 40 per cent.

The Merchants' Exchange figures do not take into consideration grain other than wheat and shipments of United States wheat through Canadian ports are omitted.

Chinese Leave Under Bond

Return To China For Trial On Opium Smuggling Charge

San Francisco, Cal.—Mr. and Mrs. Ying Kuo and Sun Foon, former assistants of the Chinese consulate here, who are under Federal indictment for an alleged attempt to smuggle $600,000 worth of opium into the United States, sailed for China on the liner "Shinyo Maru." They left under bond and with the formal permission of the United States government.

Washington.—Secretary Stimson said that the return of Mr. and Mrs. Ying Kuo and Sun Foon, formerly connected with the Chinese consulate at San Francisco, to China, had been the desire of the Chinese government, and that the prisoners had waived trial in the United States on charges of opium smuggling or complicity.

The government has secured assurances, he said, that the three would be prosecuted by the Chinese government.

Advise Return To Bognor

Better For King George Than Sandringham Say Doctors

London, England.—The Daily News says that King George's doctors had advised him to return to the seaside at Bognor for further recuperation instead of going to Sandringham, his Majesty's favorite country estate. The court encouraged by the improvement in the King's health since his second operation, had planned to go shortly to Sandringham.

The Daily News added that it was feared the King might be tempted to exceed his strength at Sandringham by indulging in grouse shooting of which he is very fond.

This danger would be avoided if he could be persuaded to remain in London for a short time and then go to Bognor for the next few months.

He would stay at Craigwell House, where he was moved from London after his grave illness last winter.

British Columbia Fire Situation Is Serious

Pacific Coast Province Shrouded In Pall Of Smoke

Vancouver, B.C.—With the whole of the southern interior of British Columbia shrouded in a pall of smoke from a hundred and fifty fires the fire situation in this province is reported by forestry officials as very critical. All available unemployed men in Nelson and vicinity have been called to fight the outbreaks and additional men recruited in an effort to cope with the situation. So dense is the smoke at Nelson that the forestry seaplane is unable to leave the water on account of the poor visibility.

A serious situation exists at Tumbler, between Grand Forks and Nelson, in the boundary district, where fire fighters are doing their best to subdue the fire raging there, without the aid of water. Fire at Westbridge, also in the boundary district, is out of control. The Shuswap outbreak, on the International boundary, is reported under control.

The forest fire situation on the lower mainland and Vancouver Island remains extremely hazardous. Particularly serious are conditions in the vicinity of Campbell River, Vancouver Island, where fires are menacing large tracts of standing timber.

THOMAS SEEKS OPENINGS HERE FOR UNEMPLOYED

London, Eng.—When Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal and official Minister of Employment, reaches Ottawa, he will emphasize to the Canadian Government that more openings for British labor could be created in the Dominion if British capital and enterprise were utilized more fully to develop Canadian industries, according to the Manchester Guardian.

The newspaper declares that Mr. Thomas wants to carry out the Board of Trade suggestion that British industry might set up manufacturing concerns in Canada, a suggestion that is sometimes referred to as "putting the other leg in the Dominion."

The Guardian also says that Mr. Thomas may stipulate that if a considerable amount of British capital is to be invested in Canadian public works, such as the construction of roads, British labor must be employed. And if the Canadian reply to this is a question as to the fate of the British workers when the roads are completed, Mr. Thomas will answer that in view of the rapid expansion of Canadian industries there would be a reasonable prospect of absorbing such immigrants permanently.

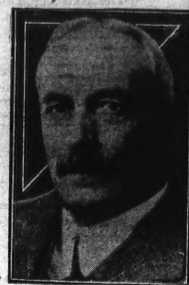

The Guardian, however, thinks there will be no surprise if Mr. Thomas accomplishes less than he hopes.

Ostyruik, of the Dominion Colonization Company, at Edmonton, who declared here that excellent wheat yields are reported in different parts of Alberta where the immigrants have taken farms.

At Federah, 30 miles north of Edmonton, farmers are reaping from 35 to 50 bushels per acre of new broken land. At Roycroft, in the Peace River country, where Mr. Ostyruik has a 400 acre farm, the yield is 40 bushels. Leduc, Alberta, reports that the yield in that district will be from 40 to 50 bushels per acre.

Building Bigger Liner

Vessel Replacing Oceanic Will Challenge Speed Of Bremen

London, England.—A Belfast dispatch to the Daily News, says that the new 10,000-ton White Star steamship, "Oceanic," to have been the greatest liner of the world, has been completely demolished and plans are being prepared for a new vessel to take up the speed challenge of the new North German Lloyd "Bremer."

The keel was laid last October and was nearly completed when work was ordered stopped on July 23. It was understood that a new ship, to be even greater in length than the 10,000-old ship, originally proposed for the "Oceanic" was to be built.

Japanese Officers Killed

Tsushima, Japan.—Six high army officers including Major General Ogawa, of the Imperial General staff, were killed when a military aeroplane crashed at Kasumigaura while making preparations for the world flight of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin, the seventh occupant of the plane, also an army officer, is dying. ## U. S. CRITICISM OF REPARATIONS PUZZLES BRITAIN

London, Eng.—American newspaper criticism of Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden's attitude at the Hague reparations conference in connection with Britain's heavy financial sacrifices has surprised as much as it has mystified the British people, news papers and politicians.

"They find it difficult to reconcile the United States' stand regarding war debts, which is very firm, to the criticism of the British Chancellor of the Exchequer and they suspect there must be a hidden motive."

It is suggested in some quarters that the real reason is to be found in the recent negotiations between Montagu Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, and American bankers, which was founded upon the presumed acceptance by the British Government of the entire Young plan. It is also suggested that Mr. Snowden is aware of this and that therefore his attitude is more adamant than ever.

Hints in American newspapers that Mr. Snowden's stand may make the Anglo-American negotiations on naval disarmament more difficult, has frankly puzzled British officials and the public, who are so strongly behind the chancellor that newspaper offices are being deluged with letters from readers of all political parties praising his attitude.

There is no doubt that if the new Labor Government went to the country tomorrow they would be returned by an overwhelming majority, and the only regret of some shrewd Labor politicians is that the Government is unable to take advantage of a situation that is not likely to arise again during the life of Ramsay MacDonald's cabinet. Even the most die-hard Tories are saying that Mr. Baldwin had adopted an attitude of "peace and honor" has there been such a spontaneous outburst of enthusiasm for a British statesman. This is making it all the more difficult for the British public to understand the American attitude, as revealed by the American press.

BRITISH EMPIRE MOURNS DEATH OF GEN. LORD HORNE

Edinburgh, Scotland.—Great Britain and the Empire is mourning the loss of Gen. Lord Horne, commander of the first army from 1916, and famous for his artillery methods in the battles of the Somme. Lord Horne died suddenly while shooting on the moors of his estate at Strickoke.

The despatches did not give the cause of his death. He was 68 years old and had held many high commands in the British Army where he was especially noted as an artillery commander.

The Canadian corps, as part of the first army, came under Lord Horne in the closing days of 1918. Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian corps, was the recipient of an historic message from the army commander after the great Canadian efforts at Cambrai. Lord Horne then expressed his high appreciation of the determined fighting by the Canadians in forcing the crossing of the canal and capturing Bourlon Wood and the high ground north and northwest of Cambrai, when troops of twelve enemy divisions were engaged in an attempt to stem the advance of the four Canadian divisions.

In November, of 1915, General Horne accompanied Lord Kitchener to Gallipoli and was afterwards sent on to Egypt to report on the defenses of the Suez Canal. He was appointed to command the 10th corps in Egypt in January, 1916, and in April of that year his corps was transferred to the Somme area.

A sum of $150,000 was voted to Lord Horne by the British Government as a tribute from the nation after the Armistice.

The man who held the $11,000, however, had disappeared together with the money. Magistrate Jeffreys refused to allow bail, stating that he thought the state of the young man's mind should be looked into.

Regular "bees" are being staged every evening at the United church, in an effort to complete the excavation for the new basement. Recently the building was raised some three feet onto a new foundation, and, we understand, is to receive a coat of stucco, which will add very much to the appearance of the edifice. Later, the programme will call for the building of an extension to the rear and a wing, all of which are necessary to accommodate the demands made upon the church by increasing Sunday school and church membership and activities.
